

COCC student athlete Darragh Hildreth works on her Spanish homework while at a training camp with the Nordic Ski Club.

Simply put, we trust Ben and Brenna with the development of our child, in not only skiing, but in our daughter's overall growth with values we believe in, such as sportsmanship, integrity, honesty, leadership, responsibility and self-confidence. Winning the podium is not the only objective--it is becoming the best you can be and believing in yourself which will always serve one well through life. Ben and Brenna live these values and serve as great role models."
